

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY YESTERDAY more than a thousand hands were raised in an oath of loyalty to state and country. Taking of the oath was mandatory for State, county and municipal employees. Most of the oaths were taken in mass ceremonies. At left are some of the hundreds of State employees residing in Monroe county as they listened to a talk by Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, before swearing-in ceremonies began about 10 p.m. at the courthouse. In center photo are shown a portion of the 133 faculty members and employees of the college at 5 p.m. in the college auditorium after they took the oath. Each person who took the oath signed a copy of it. President Judge Fred W. Davis (seated, right) signed the copies, which were then notarized by Prothonotary James Gould, visible at left between two men with backs to camera. In

Public Employees Take Oath Of Loyalty In Series Of Mass Ceremonies In County

More than a thousand county residents swore loyalty to America and the Commonwealth yesterday.

Administration of the oaths went on from morning to night all over the county.

Oath takers included school teachers, State and municipal employees living in the county, janitors of public buildings and appointed or hired employees of the county.

Court Upholds Bar Against Red Teachers

Washington (AP)—The Supreme Court, splitting 6 to 3, yesterday upheld a New York State law designed to bar Communists and other subversive persons from working in the public school system.

In an unusually busy session, the court also:

One—Dismissed an attack on a New Jersey law which requires daily readings of portions of the Bible in the schools of New Jersey, but indicated it might consider a case brought under different circumstances.

Two—Upheld the Georgia county unit election system, under which state officials are elected in somewhat the same manner in which the electoral college picks the president of the United States.

Three—Threw out the first test to reach it of the new Federal tax on gambling.

In the majority opinion on the New York teaching law, Justice Minton said:

"School authorities have the right and the duty to screen the officials, teachers and employees as to their fitness to maintain the integrity of the schools as part of ordered society."

The decision brought separate written dissents from three justices, one of which, by Justice Douglas, said the law "inevitably turns the school system into a spying project."

The law, generally known as the Feinberg law, is designed to bar subversive persons from working in the school system.

Eight New York taxpayers contended it violates freedom of speech and assembly.

Enacted in 1949, the Feinberg law is aimed at enforcing a 1939 state civil service law which says anyone who advocates violent overthrow of the government may not work for the state.

Lattimore Told Red Envoy Of Secret Mission

Washington, (AP)—Senate investigators brought out yesterday that Owen Lattimore discussed his assignment as a political adviser to Chiang Kai-shek with the Russian ambassador here before it was announced publicly and while Russia was still allied with Hitler Germany.

The discussion occurred during a Mayflower lunch on June 18, 1941, just four days before the German invasion of Russia signaled the end of the Hitler-Stalin pact.

A Senate internal security subcommittee hearing also disclosed that in June, 1940, an article written by Lattimore for the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR) was submitted in advance of publication to the Soviet ambassador, Constantine Oumansky.

Rhee Calls For Ouster Of Chinese

Pusan, Korea, (AP)—President Syngman Rhee stated yesterday that if the Chinese Reds could be forced or persuaded to get entirely out of Korea, his government would consider this an acceptable solution.

At the same time, his outspoken scorn for the Panmunjom truce talks has led some foreign observers in this South Korean capital to feel that an armistice—if reached—may be only an interlude between battles.

At some of the mass ceremonies there were a few private murmurs about "taking the oath."

When the time came, however, everybody raised his hand.

There were no reports that anyone refused. According to law such refusal would have resulted in immediate discharge.

Manner of oath-taking varied. In some cases there was a mass swearing-in, such as at State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, and Stroudsburg High schools.

In other cases, teachers were instructed to go privately to a notary and take the oath.

At Teachers College the ceremonies took about 45 minutes for processing of some 133 faculty and employees. At the high school some 38 faculty members and building custodians were sworn in about five minutes.

Federal employees in the county did not have to take the oath because it is mandatory only by State law. Elected officials did not have to take the oath either.

Name Calling Mars Korean Truce Talks

Munsan, Korea, Tuesday (AP)—Communist name-calling and shouts marred Korean truce negotiations yesterday in what the United Nations regarded as a waiting game designed to exasperate the Allies.

In an atmosphere of distrust and bitterness, Staff officers of both sides met again in Panmunjom at 11 a. m. today on terms for enforcing a truce. A subcommittee of the main armistice delegation continued prisoner exchange debate at the same hour in an adjoining tent.

The arguments grew so heated yesterday that Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, senior U. N. delegate on prisoner exchange told North Korean Gen. Lee Sang Cho to lower his voice.

"I am not deaf," he told Lee. "I have noted that the more uncertain you are of your position the louder you scream at me. I must request that you moderate your voice if possible."

Lee touched off the heated session by accusing the Allies of lying about the treatment of war prisoners and in charging the Reds with repudiating previous agreements.

"The U. N. command and the U. N. command delegation do not indulge in lies," Libby informed the Red General. "We have not lied. We shall not lie."

Seagulls Cause Big Airliner To Crash; 37 Persons Killed

Nice, France, (AP)—A four-engine French airliner, possibly wrecked on the takeoff by a flight of seagulls, crashed in an olive grove yesterday and killed 37 persons, including an American ballet dancer.

Two French actresses were among the dead, and a French dancer—the only survivor—may lose her legs.

The only other person taken alive from the wreckage—an Italian woman—died en route to the hospital. Airline officials gave French, British and Italian addresses for all the victims.

Nice airport employees said the big French-built Languedoc airliner may have run into a flock of seagulls, causing two of its four engines to cough out as it struggled to gain altitude for its regular flight from this Riviera resort to Paris. Wings and feathers were found in the engine air intakes.

France May Face Cut In American Aid

Washington (AP)—Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee suggested yesterday that U. S. aid to France may be slashed unless the French do their "utmost" to share in the burden of re-arming Western Europe.

In blunt terms, Connally raised the issue in talking with newsmen after his committee hearing for nearly two hours at a closed door session.

"If France does not do her utmost in her own defense, she cannot justify large appropriations from the United States for both economic and military aid," Connally said.

"France must be told she cannot rely on the United States to defend her and hand out large sums to aid her from an economic standpoint."

"France must do her duty."

Paris (AP)—Antoine Pinay agreed yesterday to try to put together a conservative French Cabinet that could collect the increased taxes for both European defense and the Indochina war.

Political experts predicted the 60-year-old business-politician would merely go through the motions and then give up the task today.

What may be a turn in parliamentary opinion was indicated in an unusual statement by Deputy Francois Deleoe, former chairman of the influential Radical Socialist party.

"You cannot get a 15 per cent tax increase through Parliament," he told a reporter. "What we have to do is ask the Americans through the Atlantic council either to give us another 200 million francs (about 750 million dollars) of aid or cut our contribution to Atlantic defense to 10 divisions."

Gen. Eisenhower Goes To Turkey

Ankara, Turkey, (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived yesterday—the coldest of the Turkish Winter—for his first look at some of the newest troops in his Allied armies.

He will spend the next four days visiting with officers and men of the Turkish and Greek forces.

Strong Quake Rocks North Japan; Reports Indicate Great Devastation

Tokyo, Tuesday (AP)—A strong earthquake rocked North Japan today, kicked up tidal waves, collapsed buildings, overturned trains and set off raging fires in at least one city.

First sketchy reports said six persons were killed and many were missing in Kishiro in the northernmost island of Hokkaido. Kishiro is a city of 61,000 population on the southeast coast.

The newspaper Hokkaido Shim-bun reported many persons were injured there.

The earthquake devastated much of northeastern Hokkaido. Four schools collapsed in Sapporo, another Hokkaido city, but the extent of casualties, if any, was not reported immediately.

Plague Perils Allied POWs, Peiping Hints

San Francisco (AP)—Communist propagandists yesterday dropped a hint that Allied prisoners of war in North Korea may be exposed to an epidemic of bubonic plague apparently sweeping the country.

The Peiping radio, in broadcasts heard by the Associated Press listening post, said "4,000-odd United Nations prisoners of war will have to take their chance with the rest of Korean village dwellers in the horrors of a plague epidemic."

The Red radio account quoted Wilfred Burdett, correspondent of the French newspaper Paris of Soir, as saying plague-bearing fleas were found near Panmunjom, scene of the Korean armistice talks.

Other accounts said inoculations were being prepared for residents of Kaesong, headquarters of the Communist truce team.

Red propagandists charged for the tenth straight day that American planes dropped disease-laden flies and fleas.

The United Nations radio has denied the charge as absurd and said the Reds were merely trying to blame the Allies for an epidemic of natural causes.

Rain Predicted For This Area

By the Associated Press

Clear skies and relatively mild temperatures prevailed throughout most of Pennsylvania last night with a rainstorm reported sweeping toward the eastern half of the State from the southern Atlantic coast area.

The mercury was expected to dip near the freezing mark.

The rising temperatures experienced throughout the state yesterday melted much of the snow that fell over the weekend.

Intense rain squalls were predicted for eastern Pennsylvania early today with clear skies expected to remain in evidence in the western portion of the Commonwealth for at least another 12 hours.

Two MIGs Destroyed

Seoul, Korea (AP)—American Sabres destroyed two Communist MIG jets and damaged five more yesterday in four air battles over North Korea. Ground fighting was limited to scouting thrusts by small patrols.

Telephone lines to the devastated area were out.

U. S. Army headquarters at Sendai said five tidal waves, each more than three feet high, hit the northeast Honshu island coast about 11 a. m.

The earth shocks lasted 36 minutes earlier and lasted four minutes.

The Columbia University seismographic station at Palisades, N.Y., said the quake compared with the 1950 earthquake in Assam, India which it called the biggest in 50 years.

The newspaper Asahi said the quake destruction was extensive but the tidal wave damage was not believed to be serious.

The Japanese railway office in Sapporo, Hokkaido, said the quake tore up rails, caved in 300 yards of the main line and shifted bridges. A passenger train was

GOPEfforts To Trim Budget Meet Only Partial Success

Washington, (AP)—The House cut $76,580,000 yesterday from President Truman's $3,515,145,000 budget for the Treasury and Postoffice departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It passed and sent to the Senate by voice vote a bill appropriating $3,438,565,000 for the two agencies. A Republican budget-cutting drive met only partial success.

The bill is the first of the dozen or so so-called departmental appropriation bills considered this year by the House. Together they provide most of the funds for the President's planned $85,444,000,000 spending program for the fiscal year 1953.

The cuts imposed by the House included $72,690,000 recommended by the Appropriations committee and $3,890,000 imposed over that committee's objections.

The House refused to go along with a Republican move to trim an extra five million dollars from the Internal Revenue bureau. It voted that agency $270,007,000, an increase of $16,999,000 over current year funds but a reduction of 35 millions from what the President requested.

Cuts ordered by the House on its own initiative chopped $40,000 from the office of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder; $250,000 from the Bureau of Accounts; $1,500,000 from the Public Debt bureau; $1,600,000 from the Coast Guard; and $500,000 from the Office of the Treasurer. None of those agencies, however, will have less to spend next year than they had this year, even with the cuts.

All residents of Miyako, a city of 36,000 on northern Honshu, fled at reports that a tidal wave would inundate their homes.

The Japanese railway office in Sapporo, Hokkaido, said the quake tore up rails, caved in 300 yards of the main line and shifted bridges. A passenger train was derailed near Nemuro, also on Hokkaido. Asahi said heavy earthquake damage centered around Kamaishi, 280 miles northeast of Tokyo on northern Honshu.

The Central Meteorological bureau said the earthquake hit at 10:24 a. m. (8:24 p. m. EST, Monday). The earth tremors were recorded in New York, Hawaii and other areas.

Miyako reported three small tidal waves struck there at 11:18, 11:41 and 11:48 a. m.

Headquarters of the U. S. 21st Division at Sendai, Honshu, said a three meter (nine feet, 10 inches) tidal wave had been forecast for northeastern Honshu shores.

Snyder Aide Invited To Senate Probe

Washington (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) called yesterday for an investigation of reports that Undersecretary of the Treasury Edward H. Foley Jr. had intervened in tax cases and had advised the Internal Revenue bureau to "lay off" some of them.

McCarthy said he had a "sizeable number" of questions to ask Foley, who is second in command at the Treasury department.

He asked the Senate Expenditures committee to summon the undersecretary to a private session, saying the questions would be "unfair to him if the information I have is incorrect."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) agreed to invite Foley to a closed door session of the committee this morning. Foley was in New York yesterday.

The Wisconsin senator brought Foley's name into the final stages of the committee's hearing on President Truman's plan to reorganize the Internal Revenue bureau in the wake of a long series of tax scandals.

Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap was testifying at the time, having gone to Capitol Hill in an eleven hour administration attempt to stave off threatened defeat of the plan in the Senate.

Bell Request Put Off To September 7

Harrisburg (AP)—The Public Utility commission yesterday suspended for six months until Sept. 7 a proposed $32,355,600 a year rate increase by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.

The commission at the same time ordered an investigation into the reasonableness of the proposed increase. The suspension action was by unanimous vote.

A spokesman for the commission said hearings in the increase would get under way in the near future.

In ordering the suspension the commission, following usual procedure, made no comment on its action.

The increase originally was scheduled to go into effect Friday.

In its rate increase application, Bell told the PUC the increase would affect some two million subscribers. It estimated the proposed boost would raise monthly telephone bills by about 50 cents a month and would increase the familiar nickel pay telephone calls to 10 cents.

W. D. Gillen, Bell president, told the PUC in the application that the increase was needed to offset "increased costs of virtually everything needed to run the business."

"Our need for adequate financial relief is immediate and urgent," Gillen stated. He noted that although the new rate schedule will produce an additional $32,355,600 a year, this will amount to only $14,437,000 after taxes.

The proposed increase has been opposed by several organizations including the State CIO, the Pennsylvania Hotels association, the Pennsylvania Retailers association and the Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists.

Bell was last granted a rate increase in 1949. At that time the company sought a $25 million dollar boost but the PUC scaled the amount down to $17,960,000.

General rate increases proposed under the increase include:

An increase from 10 to 15 cents monthly for residence extension service depending on type of service; a minimum 10 cents rate for intrastate toll calls; five-cent increase, generally on station-to-station calls up to 150 miles, and increases ranging from 50 cents to two dollars on basic business service.

LAST VACANT COUNTY offices were filled yesterday when commissioners appointed Howard Mount (left) as head of the Veterans Affairs bureau for the county, and Arthur L. Staples as bureau secretary. Both are Stroudsburg residents and war veterans. Mount belongs to the VFW and Staples to the American Legion.

Howard Mount Appointed Director Of Vets' Bureau; Staples Named Secretary

Howard Mount, Stroudsburg, was appointed head of the Veterans Affairs bureau yesterday.

County Commissioners Amzi F. Altomose, W. Adolph Rake and Granville Shiffer also appointed Arthur L. Staples, Stroudsburg, as secretary.

The salary board set Mount's salary at $2,000 a year. Staples will get $1,800.

The two will assume office today. Miss Willita Rogalski, former bureau head, has been serving on a temporary basis.

The appointments followed a request from county commissioners to veterans' organizations throughout the county that names of recommended veterans be submitted for the posts.

Only names submitted were those of Mount and Staples.

Mount was a long-time employee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars home in Stroudsburg. He lives at 401 N. Fifth St. Staples is a member of the American Legion post in East Stroudsburg, resides at 502 Main St., Stroudsburg. Both men are veterans of the first World War.

Loyalty Oath Administered

The theory is that they took a similar oath before taking office.

The required oath does not mention Communism. It follows:

"I, _____, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this Commonwealth, and that I will discharge the duties of _____ (State Employee, Teacher, etc.) with fidelity.

"And I do further swear (or affirm) that I do not advocate, nor am I knowingly a member of any organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States or of this Commonwealth, by force or violence or other unconstitutional means, or seeking by force or violence to deny other persons their rights under the Constitution of the United States or of this Commonwealth."

"And I do further swear (or affirm) that I will not so advocate, nor will I knowingly become a member of such organization during the period that I am an employee of the _____."

The bill requiring the oaths was passed last year and signed in December by Gov. John S. Fine. Its enactment ended an 11-month flood of controversy. Teachers and civil rights groups opposed the bill. Veterans organizations supported it.

The Governor also signed into law an act making it a crime to be a Communist.

Under present laws an individual may be refused State, county or municipal employment if the hiring authority decides there is "reasonable doubt" of the applicant's "loyalty."

County Delays Action On Voting Machines

One Bidder Quotes Price, One Doesn't

Plans to have voting machines ready for use in the April primaries began to evaporate yesterday.

Commissioners Amzi F. Altomose, W. Adolph Rake and Granville Shiffer elected to delay purchase of the 21 machines needed.

Several weeks ago the commissioners asked for comparative prices from two different firms.

Commissioners said they felt it would be a service to voters to have the machines for use in April.

The Automatic Voting Machine Corp., represented by John M. Wolfe, Cresco, submitted its price and guaranteed delivery in time for the primaries.

The Shupp Voting Machine Co., represented by Ransom Shupp, Philadelphia, did not answer the commissioners' first request.

Contacted by telephone last week however, Shupp declined to quote a price until commissioners saw his machine. He said he could not make delivery in time for the primaries.

Commissioners agreed to delay final decision until yesterday, providing Shupp would bring his machine to Stroudsburg for an inspection.

Shupp appeared yesterday morning. Although he did not bring the promised machine, he brought along literature and a miniature model of the voting panel on his machine.

Again yesterday Shupp declined to tell commissioners what his machine cost.

Commissioners Rake and Altomose elected to decide later which machine to buy.

Meanwhile they plan to try to get a machine from each firm set up in the courthouse where interested county residents may look at them.

Businessmen Sign Peter Cottontail

The Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association held a dinner meeting last night at the Log Cabin tearoom on Monroe-Carbon trail with Vice President Donald Holmgren presiding.

Merchants at that time announced plans to bring Peter Cottontail to Stroudsburg on Saturday, March 15. The bunny, they said, would distribute candy to all children during the day.

Max Stadfield and Jerry Rubin were named to head the committee which will arrange for the arrival of Peter Cottontail in the borough.

Also named to the committee were Dick Henning, A. A. Widmer, Tom Gibby and Chet Miller.

Townships Seek Aid For Roads

County road aid was asked of commissioners yesterday by supervisors from Pocono, Polk and Paradise townships.

The requests were considered but no immediate commitments from the county liquid fuel tax fund were made.

Theodore Bollinger and Clinton Brush, from Polk township, asked for money to help resurface one and a half miles of road past Dotter's Corners—Township Road 613.

They said they didn't know how much the project would cost, and did not ask commissioners for any specific sum.

Pocono Township Supervisors Russell Wertheiser and Allen Bryson asked for a county grant toward renewing the oil-and-stone top on a road improved last year. They wanted to work on about two and two-tenths miles, they said.

"How much money do you need?" Rake asked.

Wertheiser said, "I don't know. We didn't get a price on it."

The supervisors finally decided they would need around $3,000. Supervisors of both townships were advised of the commissioners' program to have township supervisors submit long-range plans for road improvement.

Paradise township's request came in the form of completed forms. It was signed by J. Burton Hamblin, Stewart R. Rowe, Arthur R. Kresge and Harry T. Hamblin.

Paradise's plan was a little more specific. It was proposed to improve the base, widen and drain eight-tenths of a mile of Legislative Route 45034 at a cost of $1,830.50; widen a road running east one mile from Mount Pocono borough at a cost of $1,750; construct three-tenths of a mile of road from Mount Pocono borough to Township Road 605, for $3,755; and install $360 worth of drain pipe.

Total cost of Paradise's proposed road project this year: $7,695.40.

Scranton Man Fined $300 In Fur Theft

Morgan John Williams, 54, of Scranton, was fined $300 yesterday in Monroe county court for the larceny of $3,085 worth of furs last Nov. 25.

President Judge Fred W. Davis also ordered Williams to pay prosecution costs and make restitution of $15. Muskrat pelts worth that amount never were recovered by detectives.

Williams pleaded guilty before Judge Davis Dec. 3. He has been committed to the county jail until the court's order is met.

Williams took the furs from a sleeping Scranton fur dealer aboard a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad train, then got off the train and tried to sell the furs.

He was arrested by railroad detectives a few days later. Attorney James Scanlon, one of the counsel appointed to represent Williams, said the former railroad employee was drunk at the time of the theft, and that he is suffering from cancer of the lung.

Oath Taken At Bangor

Bangor—All borough employees of Bangor, including the council and police, took the loyalty oath yesterday under the direction of Fred McFall, notary public and borough treasurer.

The swearing took place as a part of regular council proceedings last night at the Bangor municipal building.

In regular actions the council voted to increase fire insurance to $25,500 on equipment and buildings with an equal distribution of insurance policies to all agencies in the borough.

Thomas Naylor was elected a member of the Bangor Park Board for a five-year term replacing Raymond Jackson who had previously resigned. John Keat was reappointed to the Board of Health for five years.

The council authorized William Sleeman, secretary, to advertise a five dollar per capita tax to be used for the purchase of borough street equipment.

A financial report showed the following departmental deposits: general fund, $8,131.39; sinking fund, $6,123.76; mobile equipment fund, $2,686.41; police pension fund, $4,986.70; per capita tax fund, $3,033.95; special road improvement fund, $649.63; parking meter fund, $1,666.52. A special receipt of $1,032.87 in fines and permit fees was noted.

Non-Support Law Undergoing Test

Harrisburg (AP)—An experimental study has been started by the State Public Assistance department in Luzerne county to determine ways of enforcing the State's new non-support law.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, public assistance secretary, said the results would be used to establish a uniform system throughout the State for enforcement of the new law.

The 1951 law gives Pennsylvania reciprocal authority to collect support from husbands and fathers who have fled to other states. Some 40 other states now have such laws.

Mrs. Evans said prior to the new law it was "practically impossible to enforce payment of a court order when the errant husband or father left Pennsylvania."

Solicitor Named For Auditors

Attorney J. J. McCluskey, 2 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, has been appointed solicitor to the County Board of Auditors. County commissioners yesterday set his retainer as $100 a year. County auditors did not retain a solicitor in the past two years, according to Chief Clerk Harry Taylor.

County Lets Contract To Sun Printery

The Sun Printery, Stroudsburg, was awarded a contract yesterday to supply 29 assessment books to the county assessor's office for $375.

Sun Printery's quotation was $5 lower than the only other bidder, Marx Stationery Co. of Philadelphia. The bids had been re-let after the Marx firm revised its original price upward. In a letter Marx said his original bid had been based on the wrong type of assessment book.

Federation Of Clubs Maps Community Charity Project

Monroe County Federation of Clubs last night embarked on its sixth year of operation with one less member club, but with an ambitious program including a proposal for seven-club sponsorship of some type of community event which will devote proceeds to local charities.

George W. Price, delegate from the Eagles club, assumed the presidency of the federation.

His first act was to express regret that the East Stroudsburg Elks Lodge had withdrawn from membership. Calling for prosecution of a full program of mutual benefit and community service, Mr. Price also expressed the hope that the Elks may see fit to return to federation affiliation at some future date.

Fred Hoffman, who retired as president last night, conducted opening phases of the meeting. Secretary Ernest Ridgeway read the Elks withdrawal note and the resignation of John Hauser, an Elks delegate, as vice president.

During the meeting Foster Minnich, treasurer of the federation since its inception and also a delegate from Elks, submitted his resignation. It was accepted "with deepest regrets" and Mr. Minnich was extended a rising vote of thanks "for outstanding service."

Claude Setzer, delegate from the Moose, was elected vice president and the job of treasurer was consolidated with Mr. Ridgeway's post as secretary.

Various boards of trustees of the seven other clubs will consider the federation's community charity benefit project at meetings in the near future and report at next month's federation meeting at the Eagles.

A number of clubs have already approved the project, proposed a month ago by Mr. Price, in principle.

Last night's supper meeting was held at the CLU club.

Frenchman Lives But Rat Dies In Buried Coffin

Dijon, France (AP)—Michel Marechal, a Frenchman who sometimes signs himself Yama Kevadi, claimed a new world's record Sunday for being buried alive.

With a local official standing by to verify things, Marechal spent three hours, one minute, one second inside a coffin six feet under ground.

His only company during this eerie vigil was a rat, inside a cage with him in the coffin. Physicians said Marechal showed no ill effects.

The rat died.

Unification, Eh?

The recent exposure in Congress of the four different prices paid by our four different military services for the same items of standard equipment is an indication of something Congress failed to accomplish several years ago.

Remember the big fight in Washington over unification of the armed services? It was after World War II, and the lessons of that war were fresh in memory. One of them had to do with the inadvisability, in this day and age, of divided commands.

Unification of the armed services—we had two before the war—became the policy of the administration. The fight over it was long and bitter, but Congress finally passed the law which combined the military into one Department of Defense.

Now it appears that, in some respects, we have not the one big defense force that some people advocated, nor the two we had a few years ago, but three different forces. Sometimes four.

Congress has turned up hundreds of cases of different specifications for the same items and different prices paid by the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps.

Representative Hebert of Louisiana, chairman of a House investigating committee, got up a number of exhibits showing the wide discrepancy in prices. The committee has heard lengthy testimony.

One of the examples cited by Mr. Hebert is the gasket the Navy had been buying for 39 cents. A small, inexpensive gasket which wouldn't add much to the national debt. But the Navy discovered that its own machinists can make one at a total cost of one cent.

That's an illustration, on a very small scale, of what's involved in the proposal to standardize and unify—

Competition among those forces is foolish, in any respect. It's especially foolish when it comes to competition in the spending of hard-earned taxpayers' dollars.

Best thing that could happen, from the taxpayer's standpoint, would be for the armed services to get purchasing agents who have the same reverence for a quarter of a cent that chain store purchasing agents are required to have.

Republicans, Too

The former chairman and the former secretary of the Staten Island, N. Y., Republican organization have been indicted.

They face 74 charges between them, including election crimes, perjury, conspiracy and plain stealing.

We are glad to see the two-party system is still intact.

They're Never Too Old

Dr. Thomas Parran, former U. S. Surgeon General and now dean of the Graduate School of Public Health at Pittsburgh University, has struck a blow against arbitrary retirement at 65, a policy that is creating serious social problems in this country.

A high proportion of those automatically retired when they reach age 65 are competent to continue their jobs and in many instances retirement has hastened physical decline and brought on illness resulting in death. The shock of the changed pace of living is just too much for some people when they are forced to give up their life work.

Dr. Parran holds, and we believe rightly so, that the interests of a stable and healthy society are to be best served by treating the elderly fairly and keeping them occupied at productive work as long as possible. It is something worth the closest attention of employers.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington, March 3—Wayne Coy, who resigned recently as head of the Federal Communications Commission, is the latest to state that the reason he did so is that he is travelling around in rags, underpaid and unappreciated.

President Truman, who has also made his living off us taxpayers for the past 20 years, chimed in with a loud "yes" as he always does when one of the downtrodden bureaucrats sings this refrain.

Coy's salary was $15,000 annually, plus the usual 26-day vacation and sick leave prerogatives of all federal employees. He also could accumulate the $3 a day travel pay and was provided with free transportation whenever he went on official trips, which was often. As near as I can determine it is the most money he has ever made in his life. Prior to his job as chairman of the FCC, Coy served as a special assistant to Franklin D. Roosevelt, was an assistant director of the budget and held several other government jobs prior to and during World War Two, after having started his business career as a newspaperman.

Just as in the case of most bureaucrats, however, what Coy was paid as a government official will be small change compared to what he will earn in private business as a former FCC chairman. And he won't be given it because of what he knew before he went to work for us taxpayers, but for what he learned and the people he met while working for us.

The roster of former government officials who "sacrificed" their personal fortunes to work for the government, only to cash in later because they knew their way around administration circles, is long and growing longer daily. In fact, a number have acquired small fortunes simply because they had the brains to remember the White House telephone number.

Mr. Truman bid Coy farewell with this remark:

"You're the ironic story of so many key civil servants whose abilities and special skills must be lost to the government because of the inadequacy of government salaries."

I do not question Coy's capabilities. But he acquired a lot of them while attached to the government payroll. And he is leaving now, at 48 years of age, with lots of years left to earn fat fees representing various organizations before government agencies. So it would seem he should have the decency to admit that his government service has aided and abetted his career, instead of slouching out the side door with the complaint that he didn't make enough to keep his children in the fancy schools to which they apparently have become accustomed.

How many people do you know who keep two children comfortably on far less than $15,000 a year? Coy says he has one child in college and one in prep school and it costs him a lot of money. Nobody will argue that, but he ought to be able to do it on $15,000 a year.

The facts are that government salaries are higher than at any time in history, and in some cases surpass those paid in private industry. Naturally, few government officials outside of the President earn salaries comparable to those paid top-flight industrial managers and executives, but we are talking about the wage earner below that level, be he in government or private employment.

Few wage earners in private industry get 26-day vacations, and are permitted to take some three weeks or so of sick leave, with pay, each year. Fewer get time off for parades and all official and unofficial holidays, as federal workers do. Besides, there is a standard practice in Washington of loading the payroll with "standby" employees whose only job is to sit and wait until there is some work for them to do. Civil Service likewise allows a constant upgrading of employees, who perform the same work but get more money each year in addition to the substantial pay hikes voted frequently by Congress.

And there is one more gimmick which I know most of us don't enjoy. After serving a certain number of years on the federal payroll employees are entitled to retirement. In most cases the employees are placed in higher grades just before retirement so they can draw a bigger pension check. This is carried to the extreme wherein the wife of a White House aide, who is privately well off, is promoted to a fictitious job calling for more salary just before she retires.

It goes on all the time. So does Mr. Truman's phony chant that federal salaries are dirt cheap. The truth is that most of them never had it so good, and the President knows it.

A child usually is able to draw a circle before he can draw a square, but he is usually six years old before he can draw a diamond shape.

Press releases about "fabulous" sums offered by movie studios for the life story of Willie ("The Actor") Sutton are all fakes. The picture producers' code would not allow such a film now, even were it a documentary with the most positive "crime-don't-pay" ending. At least a half-century must pass before a biographical of a criminal, with the use of his name, can be okayed. "Dillinger" was a rare exception. It was made by an independent outfit, and distributed by special permission because he was killed by officers of the law. It is true that magazines have put out feelers for Sutton's story, which I think would be a questionable investment, despite the flurry of interest over the jail-breaking bank-robber when he was nabbed. Sutton may sell his memoirs, ghost-written, probably to a crime specialty sheet, but he'd better make up his mind soon, because he will be quickly forgotten. No glamour, despite his criminal exploits.

I hear he is in Switzerland, rushing through another book for quick release, though he usually spaces his works over intervals of five or more years. Remarque, who was independently rich by inheritance before he won world fame with "All Quiet," writes his originals in German, though he could teach English at Harvard.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

As everybody who has read my column for any length of time knows, I try to be a confirmed optimist. I believe that fundamentally the human race is all right. I believe in the inherent decency of the human being. I believe that Man has been endowed with his soul by God. But sometimes I wonder what Man is doing with his soul, with his decency, with his goodness.

Why is there so much crime in the world? Why so much hate? Why are we using so many of our divine endowments for our destruction rather than for our salvation?

This is not intended to be a sermon. I am neither authorized

In the March issue of "Commentary" G. F. Hudson analyzes the Katyn massacre, the biggest "who-dun-it" in history, and further clinches the general suspicion that it was a Russian Communist barbarity. His conclusions are grisly and deadly. He sub-heads the article as "The Truth at the Bottom of the Pit." The Reds are not only among history's most conscienceless mass murderers, but they are the most bald and clumsy liars of all time.

They are going to the Bowery, where a few all-night places serve mussels. But, though liquor may be served here until 4 a.m., the ones who lap it up until that hour make up perhaps one per cent of the number who guzzled so long and late in the 1920's.

On every Sunday in the year we go to our churches. We talk of Christ, we pray to Christ, we profess to believe in Christ. Yet every Monday and every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, we violate the ten commandments, we scorn Christ's teachings, we live in complete contempt of everything for which Christ stands—for which every religion stands.

No, I am not preaching. I am only wondering how Man can be so wonderfully smart in his material progress and so unbelievably backward in his spiritual development. It's too bad the soul isn't a machine. We might be able, then, to develop it to higher efficiency,

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Hollywood's Communists
The motion picture industry is excited over the 1951 annual report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which calls attention to sustainable conclusions. The Committee's report stated:

"It is not the committee's purpose to destroy this investment. It must be remembered, however, that the American public also has an investment in Hollywood, prior to the advent of television, the American public relied almost solely upon Hollywood motion pictures for visual, dramatic presentation. It must be realized that moving pictures have a tremendous emotional effect upon the audience which views them. The same is true of television shows."

The committee hopes that its investigation of Hollywood will have a far-reaching effect and prevent a large-scale future Communist infiltration of the television industry. Two points of view have long existed in the motion picture industry:

1. That every disclosure of Communist activities in Hollywood hurts the industry. Therefore anyone who raises this issue is an enemy of the industry. In keeping with this concept, so-called Hollywood statemen—that is, some lawyers, public relations counsel and front men for the industry—have opposed such organizations as the Motion Picture Alliance for the Preservation of American Ideals since 1944 has actively been fighting the activities of the Communists in Hollywood. The general industry attitude has been that the anti-Communists were a greater nuisance than the Communists. The Reds have taken full advantage of that.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities calls attention to this undeniable fact:

"The need for remedial action was amply demonstrated when it was found that four Communist-front organizations, which had operated in the state of California, had received approximately $1,000,000 from members of the Hollywood motion-picture industry. It had long been known that Hollywood was one of the principal sources of funds for the Communist Party of the United States."

2. Some companies have, on their own, cleaned house, often at considerable cost. It can be said that Republic, RKO, and Warner Brothers have done most to keep their studios clean. It is a tough job because Communists do not readily expose themselves and the best technique for their discovery is an unpleasant one, namely, the searching of records of activity and the assumption of guilt by association. The latter method of exposure is particularly unpalatable, even to violent anti-Communists, but it has been the net that has caught most of the fish.

Such companies as Paramount, Columbia, and Twentieth Century-Fox have, in recent months, been facing the issue practically, on the sound business assumption that pictures in which Communists or "Fronters" have been writers, producers, directors, actors encounter unusual sales resistance and therefore are defective products.

The process of eliminating Communists meets many impediments, including some decisions of the courts. I shall list some of the major impediments:

1. The general ignorance on the part of leading men in this industry of political ideas and activities, the meaning of Communism and the violent rejection of it by most Americans.

2. The alleged box-office appeal of certain writers and actors. The allegation has not been sustained by receipts during 1950 and 1951.

3. The natural desire to protect property values in already manufactured pictures, in "big names" which cost huge sums to build up, and in investments in pictures currently being shown.

4. Contractual arrangements which the courts will protect. The answer is that the country will not tolerate the employment of Communists and their allies in this and related industries. An actor, writer, etc. knows why he joined the Communists, who recruited him, and he knows whether he has engaged in any other activities which are not on the record. All he needs to do is to clear his own record, either by writing a letter to his company, preferably notarized, or to the House Committee or to the Motion Picture Alliance. He can always arrange to have a copy of the record circulated to most of the active anti-Communist groups in the country. He needs no lawyer, no public relations counsel, no "clearer."

Many who would like to clear themselves resist the temptation to go straight for one of three reasons:

1. The unwillingness to appear to have been foolish;

2. They do not like to name others;

3. The fear that the industry itself will not give them employment.

Hollywood — If there's anything Sammy Fuller loves more than the industry, it's newspapers. And so he's doing his newspapering these days by writing, directing, and producing a bawling, spectacular movie about their early days in America.

"Park Row" has a set that reproduces a famous street of newspaper offices in New York, 1886. The Times, Herald, World, Sun, Evening Post, Associated Press are signs above the cobblestoned paving. There are statues of Greeley and Franklin.

"The hero of this story is the U. S. newspaper," said little Sammy, puffing a cigar whose size suggested a baseball bat. At 14 he was Arthur Brisbane's copy boy. In 15 years as a newspaperman he worked on about 20 papers from the New York Journal to the San Diego Sun.

Now this dynamic director, always the most colorful actor on his sets, wore a battered eyeshade like some veteran of the copy desk.

"This is a history of American journalism," he said, exhaling a cloud. "Too many people take their daily newspaper for granted. When they see this, I hope they'll realize there's a lot more backstage of a newspaper than appears on the front page."

Red-headed Gene Evans plays Fuller's crusading editor — a composite of all the great editors — Bennett, Greeley, Dana, Raymond, Pulitzer.

It was Evans who played a tough sergeant in Fuller's two previous movies eulogizing the Prosperity. It's Wunnerful! Blue chip corporations, almost without exception, are showing in their reports new high records for sales and income but a big decline in profits per share. One big company with the greatest sales in its history had a 1951 drop to $3.27 from $14.61 per share the previous year. We thought this somewhat alarming but talked with Elmer Twitchell, the well-known economist, and were assured it was wonderful.

"The fact a corporation can have anything at all left for stockholders is most encouraging," he declared, studying a financial chart upside down. "Think what the situation would be if it could not! Always bear in mind that the percentage of the caterwall is negligible."

"But these corporations are all setting all-time highs in terrific business volume, are they not?" we asked.

"True," replied the economist, a graduate of Hazy Heights College, and famed for a record of two touchdowns per game (for his opponents!) running the wrong way with the ball.

"This means more customers, greater output and more sales, does it not?" we asked.

"Quite so."

"Yet through taxation all earnings suffer enormous drops. What would happen in a year when these corporations did not have record business?" we asked.

"What would happen to the government? That's the more important question. All you need to appreciate the splendor of our economic situation is the right viewpoint," said Elmer as he put a cigar in his mouth wrong end foremost.

"You'll burn your mouth," we warned as he puffed on the light-end end.

Infantry, "The Steel Helmet" and "Fixed Bayonets."

Part of Fuller's profits from "The Steel Helmet" have gone into financing his newspaper movie. The project has been cooking in his mind for 20 years, including his World War II hitch in the infantry overseas. Sammy said, "Our main theme is the real fight for freedom of the press." He opened his script to where a veteran newspaperman in his story has written his own obituary.

Meeting in executive session, the board of the Woman's club of Stroudsburg discussed plans for the coming Monroe County Federation Spring meeting, to be held May 1, with the seniors and juniors of the local club as hostesses.

Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, president of the County Federation of Women's clubs, announced that Mrs. William Cressy, vice president, Pennsylvania State Federation, and Mrs. Arthur Wilmarth, state fine arts chairman, will be the guest speakers. The meeting will open for registration at 2 p. m., in the club rooms of the local group.

Mrs. Claude Leister, third vice president and hospitality chairman of the senior club, and Mrs. H. J. Pine, of the junior club, are co-chairmen in charge of general arrangements, with Mrs. Eli Travis, Mrs. Paul W. Lloyd of the senior group and Mrs. Charles McCarthy of the junior club, in charge of decorations.

The junior club will have charge of the latter part of the meeting, following the dinner session at the Penn-Stroud, and the installation of the new county officers to be elected at that time.

The county executive board will meet March 27 in the local club rooms.

Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield, first vice president and welfare chairman, announced that 55 babies had used the facilities of the Well-Baby Clinic during February, with 17 of these being first visits. In the absence of Mrs. Parke W. Kunkle, second vice president and program chairman, Mrs. George T. Robinson, the president, introduced Miss Miriam Lark who reported for Mrs. Kunkle that the program would be on the subject of television.

Fran Shinn, co-ordinator of the Lucky Strike television shows, will speak on "What's Coming on Television," and John Price, speaking on community antenna. Mrs. W. Dolby Palmer will give the prayer for peace, and Mrs. Leister announced that the hostess chairmen would be Mrs. James J. Coleman, Mrs. James N. Canfield and Mrs. James R. Cavin.

Mrs. James J. Cummings, president of the juniors, announced that the activities groups of the club as announced in the program and the Daily Record are open to any senior member who would care to attend.

Mrs. Oram P. Hoffman, peace chairman, reminded the group that dues for the foreign club sponsored by Stroudsburg, the Baltic Women's Club of Wurttemberg, are now payable, and suggested that as was done last year money for this project be raised by having card parties in the individual homes and charging twenty-five cents a person in attendance. Contributions also will be gladly accepted.

The legislation chairman, Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin, read a communication from Dr. Robert L. Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Started out as a rather dull day, but somehow they never seem to stay that way. For one thing, there was the excuse to visit Miss Euretta Crooks who will be 95 years old today — though you'd never in this wide world believe it, so spry she walks out to get the pictures of her mother and the miniature of her father, bought the year the Normal School was started.

To maintain a sweet disposition and a sense of humor for 95 years is something pretty remarkable, too, and maybe we'd better get started on it now since it will take sixty years or so of constant practice before we can make it.

Then there was that business of the orchids at the hospital, which was sort of super-special, too. And the AAUW auction — sure hope we didn't violate any ceiling prices with those cakes — but I guess there couldn't be a ceiling price on something that practically floated away by itself.

And the Graduates, bless their hearts, with their forty some baby kimonos already made, and the Cootiettes with their Easter eggs, and the Woman's club with that snubrious convention coming up, and the weddings and the engagements.

Never, never, call a day dull until after you go to sleep, and even then you can't count on not dreaming a thriller.

Hospital Patients Wearing Orchids These Days

It was orchids to the patients at the General Hospital yesterday — real orchids arranged in miniature bouquets on the tea trays at supper time, and in bouquets in the nurses dining room.

The orchids were flown from Hawaii, the gift of Lt. Norma Naegle to her sister, Mrs. James Morgan, of Ridgeway St., East Stroudsburg, who in turn gave them to the hospital committee of the Monroe County Garden club which arranged the pleasant surprise for the patients.

Lt. Norma Naegle, now in the Navy Nurse Corps, stationed at Tripler Army Hospital in Honolulu had sent the big box of delicate white and purple and brown blooms, each blossom wrapped in cotton.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps and her committee arranged them in little jars with evergreens. Mrs. David Shiffer, Mrs. M. J. Leitner, Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein, and Mrs. Edgar VanWhy assisted in the unusual task of arranging more than 100 bouquets of orchids.

Miss Euretta Crooks Marks 95th Birthday Here Today

Miss Euretta Crooks is celebrating her 95th birthday today at the home of her grand niece, Mrs. John Haase, of Walnut St., East Stroudsburg, but she was just as interested in talking about the prospects of Little League baseball just across the street next Summer as she was in the events of the long, long ago.

Miss Crooks was born March 4, 1857, in a house on Fifth St., which was then but a country lane winding up the hill with no other houses on either side.

The family moved to East Stroudsburg, where they lived in the Starbird house, on Washington St., just opposite Starbird St. There she first started school in the little red brick schoolhouse which stood where the East Stroudsburg Methodist church now stands.

Later she attended the school at the corner of Eighth and Main Sts. where the Shull house now stands. It was a stone building with Miss Melvin teaching downstairs, and Miss Miller, who later married Stroud Burson, upstairs.

Miss Crooks recalls many incidents from the early life of the town, though she left here for 28 years to care for relatives children in Dover, N. J. Those children and their children still remember her with affection and came up for a birthday visit last weekend bringing bouquets of flowers in her honor.

Mrs. Haase plans an informal party for her this afternoon with a few friends in to help her celebrate.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

I never knew before what a one-track mind I have. It all began yesterday when one of the girls said, "What time is it?" and I answered blithely, "Eight o'clock," but we're supposed to be there at 7:30." Since it was then around noon, it isn't surprising that she bristled a bit and said, "Well, thank you. But I wasn't talking about the fashion show. I was wondering when to leave for lunch."

Later in the day, when little Mable Anderson wanted to review the material she'd given me about the Famous Artist prints now being so proudly displayed in our drapery department, I looked up dazedly from the typewriter and said, "Prints? Oh . . . I haven't come to the print stores yet." The fact is, some of us here at the store have lived, breathed and thought fashion show so consistently these past few weeks it doesn't seem possible there's anyone who might be even remotely interested in anything else.

Tonight's show is going to be one of the loveliest the store has ever sponsored. I'm confident of that, because the styles this year are among the most beautiful and graceful that any season has ever produced. Our models look like dreams walking . . . not just because they themselves are pleasing to look at, but because the colors this year are flattering, the lines are graceful and feminine, and the hats and accessories are imaginative and young. The truth of the matter is, it's difficult this season to decide what to buy, because everything seems to have been made with you in mind. Clever, those guys and gals who make up Dame Fashion's mind for her. They definitely have designs on us all this year!

But come to the show if possible, and see for yourself how beautiful and glamorous we women will be this year. The fashion story is a pretty one and you're one of the leading characters. We'll be looking for you TONIGHT AT EIGHT, at Stroudsburg High school, and it's as FREE as air. Spring air . . . With prizes and surprises . . . ! ! !

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY

A football conference and the various pros and cons connected with a venture of this type were thoroughly discussed at Saturday's meeting of the Lehigh Valley league, at the Penn-Stroud hotel. While there seemed to be a certain fear existing as far as breaking out into a conference at the present time is concerned, there definitely was an undertone of belief in a setup of this type, in which the Lehigh Valley and Lehigh-Northampton leagues will crown a common champion each year.

However, if and when a football conference between the two leagues becomes a reality, I believe that virtually full thanks must go to Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools and to Dr. Donald Tennyson, new superintendent of Lehighnton schools. Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg co-founded the idea and together have been doing all in their power to make the plan a reality. However, it was Tennyson who came to the front last Saturday, when the conversation was entirely on the doubtful side.

The apparently very popular superintendent, in his first talk to those assembled, went on record as favoring the plan and telling how well it has worked in the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic league, where he had directed a school system before taking the position at Lehighnton. The WPIAL is composed of in the neighborhood of 100 schools and it has only been on rare occasions down through the years that a single champion hasn't ruled the roost by virtue of the point system used to determine the standing of the various teams.

Tennyson's brief, but I believe vital speech, apparently was all that the Lehigh Valley league needed to agree on the conference plan. However, as stated above, for one or more reasons the schools appear timid about making a motion that such a plan should be put into operation. This writer is of the opinion that the formation of a conference will and should take time, in an effort to see that not a single factor will be overlooked in putting the machinery into operation to assure success of the venture.

On one occasion Saturday, one of the gentlemen gathered at the meeting went on record as believing that the conference setup would allow one or more teams an opportunity to skip games with teams they have been trying to avoid in recent years. However, almost to a man, the remainder of the meeting disagreed with this thought and quickly pointed out that a weak schedule would virtually make it impossible for any grid machine to win the conference title, which is decided strictly on a point basis.

A group of school administrators, acting as a unit but not sponsored by either league, was asked by the Lehigh Valley league to further its study on the conference proposal and present additional information at the next meeting of the circuit, at which time the discussion of the conference possibilities will be resumed. Although the committee of school administrators wasn't appointed by either league, both circuits are represented with membership.

The conference setup will give the smaller schools a fairer chance of competing with the larger institutions of learning than do the present league agendas, because of the point system used to determine the winner. Strong teams, when defeated, will give the winning eleven more points than a victory over a weak contingent. Thus, one major upset could very easily put one of the smaller and usually weaker schools very much in the pennant fight. It will also divide the teams in such a manner that there will be more of an equalization in ability as far as the schedule is concerned.

However, if and when the conference plan is adopted, it will mean a complete reorganization of the scheduling methods of both the Lehigh Valley and Lehigh-Northampton leagues. However, if the plan does become a reality, it's a safe bet that both circuits will also continue to crown an individual champion, as they do at the present time.

Work toward the formation of a conference was begun more than a year ago, and right now is the first time that this writer actually felt that the move was popular in the Lehigh Valley league, although it still may be defeated in a show-down vote. However, even if the plan is approved, it won't go into operation before 1953.

Eagles Rally To Win Over Worthington Mower Cagers

A strong second half enabled the Eagles to take the measure of Worthington Mower in the only industrial league contest on the Monroe County YMCA agenda last night, 44-33. The Mower contingent trailed by only one point at halftime, but was unable to stand the pace in the third and fourth periods.

Both quintets completed the first period with six points, but the Eagles held a slim 17-16 edge at the halfway mark, after the Eagles had the better of the going in the second round, 17-16.

No Doubt
However, there was no doubt as to the better team during the second half, as the Eagles came up with a 12-9 advantage in the third quarter and a 15-8 scoring bulge during the final round to put the game on ice.

Tom Somers and Henry "Hank" Stetler led the winning attack with 16 and 15 points respectively, while Miller was tops in a losing cause, with eight tallies.

Michigan Trips Purdue

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—Michigan bested Purdue, 68-60, last night in a battle to stay out of the Big Ten basketball cellar. The win left Michigan with a record of four wins and ten defeats and Purdue, its schedule also complete, with a 3-11 record.

Vinegar Bend Population To Invade St. Louis

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Back home in Vinegar Bend, Ala., where the turpentine gum flows, the citizens are waiting on another Wilmer Mizell excursion. The folks—all 35 of them—enjoyed a 600-mile bus ride to Houston last summer to see Wilmer pitch for the St. Louis Cardinals farm club. They also saw the sights, including the fabulous Shamrock Hotel.

Now that the kid from Vinegar Bend is making his bid for a big league job with the Cards, the folks are thumbing St. Louis guidebooks.

Ever since a scout fished Wilmer out of a swimmin' hole behind the barn on his grandmother's place at Vinegar Bend, you've heard tales about a "left-handed Dizzy Dean."

Race
If the army doesn't get him first, National League fans will get their first look at Vinegar Bend this summer.

When Vinegar Bend uncovers that slingshot left arm, hitters take to the ditches. He whiffed 175 in 141 innings at Albany, Ga. in 1949, his first year out. Next season at Winston-Salem, N. C. He struck out 227 in 207 innings and last year he led the Texas

Steele Scores 19 Points For Cavaliers

East Stroudsburg High completed its 1951-52 basketball season last night with a 54-43 victory over the Alumni, on the N. Courtland St. hardwood, before the smallest crowd of the campaign.

Action in the preliminary contest found Frank's Barber Shop winning over Cramer's Cut Rate, 56-47.

Ray Steele piled up 19 more points in his final scholastic game showing, while leading his mates to victory over the former stars, as part of an anti-climax to last Friday's win over Stroudsburg.

The high school cage machine held the upper hand throughout the contest, although the "old timers" did manage to hold a scoring advantage in the third period.

East Stroudsburg, with only two of ten men failing to break into the scoring column, during the game, picked up 15 markers in the first quarter while the Alumni live came up with an even dozen.

Advantage
The Cavaliers, on their way to victory number ten of the season, also held the upper hand in the second round, 12-5, to lead 27-47 at the halfway mark.

East Stroudsburg had a regular season mark of eight wins and ten setbacks, but two exhibition victories evened the record.

The Alumni showed its class during the third ten-minute session with a 15-9 bulge in the scoring. However, the purple and white clad Cavaliers came back in the final stanza to put the game on ice with an 18-11 edge in the point production.

East Stroudsburg, far off the pace the club set last Friday, made only six of 24 shots from the foul line last night, while the Alumni came through with seven conversions in 19 attempts from the same distance.

Steele registered his 19 points on nine field goals and one foul conversion, while Joe Chase was next in the scoring line with eight tallies. Jerry Muys was the big gun for the Alumni with 14 points, on six goals from the floor and two from the foul line.

Gola, the nation's fourth leading rebounder, had 26 rebounds last night, 23 in the first half, as LaSalle was romping to its twentieth win in 25 starts.

Coplay Rolls Over East Mauch Chunk

Slatington—Coplay High scored almost at will here in Smith Hall last night, as the Lehigh-Northampton league representative ran over East Mauch Chunk, 84-46, in a class "C" District 11 playoff tussle.

Coplay held the upper hand throughout the ball game, but the same club that finished in a tie for second half honors in the Lehigh Northampton league with Heller-ton, demonstrated its real power in the final period, when the winning aggregation ran up 30 points as compared to five for the losing aggregation.

Advantage
The winning aggregation held a 36-24 edge at the halfway mark and was able to increase the lead by only one point at the end of three quarters, but ran wild in the final round.

East Mauch Chunk's ace, Bill Kimler, came up with 15 points, but couldn't match the 27 and 24 turned in by Coplay's Sotak and Rayden respectively.

Game Postponed
George Metropoulos, secretary of the Pocono Mountains league, announced last night that the basketball game scheduled between Tobyhanna and West End last night, for Coolbaugh High, was postponed indefinitely.

Collegians Take Measure Of Portland A. C. Rival, 41-31
Portland A. C. fell before the Collegians in a basketball game played at the Monroe County YMCA last night, 41-31. The winning aggregation did all its damage in the first three periods, while a last round rally by the Portland club fell far short of its mark.

Advantage
The Collegians jumped off to a 12-6 advantage at the end of the first period and were on the long end of the count at halftime, 22-11.

It was the same story in the third period as the Collegians held a 12-3 edge. The winning team coasted to victory despite the fact that Portland held a 14-7 advantage in the final round.

Basora Gains Nod
New York (AP)—Jose Basora, 172½, veteran Puerto Rican light heavyweight, won a split decision over Al Winn, 165½, New York, in the main bout of eight rounds at the St. Nicholas Arena last night.

Saddler's purse was ordered held up in the non-title affair by the Montreal Athletic commission.

Most of the fighting was at close quarters with Saddler punching continually but taking some sharp blows from Savoie in return.

Saddler was cautioned by Sullivan in each round, particularly in the third. Between the third and fourth rounds, President Emile Gauthier of the Montreal Athletic commission climbed to the apron of the ring and told the referee the fight should be stopped because of Saddler's actions.

The bout drew an announced gate of $25,374 from paid admissions of 8,334.

McKean Site Ruled Out By Air Force

Washington (AP)—The Air Force today ruled out the McKean site as a possible location for a new air base.

Brig. Gen. Robert E. L. Eaton said in a letter:

"Our technicians have carefully studied the data submitted by the industrial development committee of the Bradford Board of Commerce in addition to information previously obtained by the Air Force pertaining to that area.

"We regret that the topography will not permit the development of a depot in McKean county."

The Air Force previously ruled out Pennsylvania sites in Lancaster, Chester, York, Berks, Lebanon, Dauphin and Schuylkill counties.

The only other Pennsylvania sites publicly mentioned as possibilities are in Carbon and Monroe counties. Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), whose district includes Carbon and Monroe, told a reporter that these sites still are under consideration.

The depot would augment the Olmsted Air Force base at Middletown, Pa.

General Eaton's letter to Gavin said the new depot would be used for repair and maintenance support of Air Force units in the northeastern United States as well as U. S. and North Atlantic Treaty organization forces in Europe and North Africa.

Choir Sings Before Large Congregation

The sacred concert by the Gettysburg College Choir last Saturday night in Grace Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, was attended by a throng of music lovers from the area. The choir which appeared here under the auspices of the Lutheran Youth was given overnight accommodations in various homes of the congregation. The choir left Sunday morning following Holy Communion for Holy Trinity Lutheran church, Bethlehem, where they sang at 3:30 and then presented an evening concert in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Allentown, Sunday.

Marlin Martz, president of the Lutheran Youth, expressing the gratitude of the young people of the Youth Fellowship to the many patrons and hosts for their marvelous support of this endeavor. The Women's Guild, Mrs. Florence Bush, president, served the choir a venison and moose dinner prior to the concert.

A capacity congregation was noted at the Holy Communion service Sunday morning when Pastor John Rander of Eastonia assisted Pastor Wunder in the administration of the sacrament. Pastor Rander will preach at the Sunrise Dawn service on Easter Day when the sacrament will be observed again. Serving as communion ushers Sunday were: Paul Neiderer, Eugene Kelechava, Harry Nace Jr., Milton Walton, LeRoy J. Kleinle, Fred P. Eyer, J. Fielding Vollers and William Lee Sr.

Memorial altar flowers were placed by Mrs. Clara Hoffman and family in memory of A. Y. Hoffman; chancel flowers were placed by Mrs. Charles Knudson in memory of her mother, Mrs. Edward Treible; also by the Lutheran Youth fellowship. The communion bulletins were presented by the Walters family in memory of E. M. Walters.

Thomas I. Kintner and Frank Schaller served as acolytes and Misses Mary Bosman and Pearl Barlieb were in charge of the nursery. Thomas E. Treible operated the carillon and amplification systems. Mrs. Rebecca Pierce was communion steward. The chancel choir sang the anthem, "Come Unto Me," with Miss Connie Beers singing the soprano solo with Miss Charlotte Herman at the console.

The vestry will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Parish house and all councilmen are requested to attend to complete plans for Thursday night's banquet honoring the auxiliary heads, choiristers and Sunday School teachers.

Farm Sells For $15,000, Assessed At Only $1,200

(This is the seventh in a series of articles based on actual real estate sales in boroughs and townships and the amounts at which those properties were assessed. Figures were taken from official county records.)

By Leonard Randolph
Eldred township had a property turnover of $38,225 in 1951, according to the eleven sales for which assessments were recorded.

The assessment percentage on these 11 properties ranged from a minimum 4 to a maximum 33 per cent of the market or sale value.

Eldred's largest single sale occurred in the month of January when a Kunkletown farm sold for $15,000. While the sale price was the highest on record for the year, the assessment was one of the lowest.

The $15,000 property was assessed at only $1,200—8 per cent of the market value. Only two other township properties were assessed at lower percentages during the year.

Next in line, in selling price, were two commercial properties in Kunkletown, which sold for $12,500 each. The assessed value in both cases was placed at $3,100 or 25 per cent of the selling price.

Expressed in percentages, this means that the $12,500 properties were assessed at a per cent three times greater than was the highest priced property in the township.

Two Eldred properties sold for $10,000 in 1951. One was assessed at $2,300 or 24 per cent of the sale price the other at $1,500 or 15 per cent.

New York Butter

New York, March 3 (AP)—Butter easy 2 days receipts, 445,671. Wholesale prices on bulk cartons: Creamery, higher than 92 score (AA) fresh 50¢; 92 score (A) fresh 48-50¢, 90 score (B) fresh 46-50¢, 88 score (C) fresh unquoted.

In May a Kresgeville farm sold for $8,625 and was assessed at $925—11 per cent of the market value. One month later, an $8,100 farm in the township was assessed at $340 or 7 per cent of its value.

The remainder of Eldred sales were small ones, ranging from $5,000 to $1500. These properties were assessed at sharply varying amounts, however, a low of 4 per cent to a high of 33.

Thus, we find the township's highest and lowest assessment percentages (figured on the basis of the relationship of assessed value to the sale price) concentrated in the four smallest sales made during the year.

The minimum percentage is found assessed on two tracts of land which sold for a total of $5,000. The assessed value of the two tracts was placed at $200 or 4 per cent of the selling price.

A farm near Kunkletown was sold for $3,000 during this same period. It was assessed at $350—12 per cent of the selling price. The farm's assessment percentage was 18 as compared to 4 for the two pieces of land.

Twenty-five acres of land near Kunkletown, which sold for $2,000 in June was assessed at $530—26 per cent of the market value.
